

MEPCO Engineering Change Notice

Immediate Release – August 29, 2019

Grand Rapids, MI – MEPCO is pleased to announce a change to our 75 PSI and 125 PSI thermostatic traps and float and thermostatic traps. We have replaced the C6888 high pressure disc with the MEPT4335 cartridge. Both items have been in our product catalog for a number of years and both have crossover applications. As the MEPT4335 has a broader range, you will find it can be used on MEPCO traps and FTs as well as replacements for the air vents in competitive products like Sterling, WW and Illinois and Gestra traps.

The MEPT4335 is a time-tested product that has a stainless-steel valve and seat, is rated to 125 PSI, and incorporates a solid metal cage for water hammer resistance. Having these characteristics in one product also allows us to simplify and reduce inventory and manufacturing costs.

Attached you will find a complete list of MEPCO products that used the C6888 and will now have the MEPT4335. You can place your orders immediately for all products. As always, if you have any questions, please contact customer service.
